

—The poor asylum building was accepted by the county commissioners on Wednesday last. The building is located on the Cole farm, four miles west of town, on 160 acres of land. There are forty rooms in the building. It is estimated the total cost of the new farm and building will be $19,000. The county still owns the old poor farm at the edge of town.