

Chamber's New Officers

C-T Photo By John F. Bard

Pictured Wednesday night with Robert E. Burton, right, immediate past president of the Greater Bloomington Chamber of Commerce, are the recently elected Chamber officers for 1972-73. They are, left to right, Willard Twyman, president; Charles A. Zebendon, vice president, community development; William L. Butler, vice president, economic development; Phillip A. Wible, vice president, internal organization; Kenneth L. Rumple, vice president, public and governmental affairs, and Robert D. Mann, secretary. Treasurer Timothy D. Ellis is not pictured.

Old And New

C-T Photo By John F. Bard

Robert E. Burton, right, outgoing president of the Greater Bloomington Chamber of Commerce, received a plaque of appreciation from new President Will Twyman at the chamber's annual dinner meeting Wednesday night at the Frangipani Room of the Indiana Memorial Union.

Directors

Among those persons recognized at Wednesday night's annual meeting of the Greater Bloomington Chamber of Commerce were these newly elected Chamber directors. Pictured, from left, are Richard L. Hartung, Stephen M. Huse, J. William Ringgenberg, Mary Frances Roll and William B. Schrader. About 300 Chamber of Commerce members, staff workers and guests attended the dinner meeting at which Seward & Co., Inc., was honored for 150 years of service to the community.