

Create a Unique Video Mother's Day Card

Your Mom's special? shouldn't her Mother's Day card be too? Mother's Day is next Sunday, so you've got a week to find a message that really captures your love and appreciation for all Mom's done for you.

Making her a Mother's Day video greeting in Level Up at the Main Library is the easy, fun, and free way to personalize your wishes for Mom on her special day?check out the example I'm sending my mother (click to play video):

Your video message can be as simple as saying a few words from the heart on camera?or going all out with a beautifully edited Mother's Day masterpiece incorporating family photos, music, or even green screen technology.

Ready to get started? All you do is shoot your greeting in a Level Up Video Studio (we recommend making a reservation), then edit your Mother's Day message together at a Digital Creativity Workstation, adding any photos or audio you bring with you.

And if you need a little guidance? Don't worry:

- As always, Level Up Staff are here to help point you in the right direction and help if you get stuck.
- Shoot & Edit Green Screen, a free hands-on Level Up Workshop, is offered at 7 p.m. on Thursday, May 11th. Your Mother's Day message and photos welcome! Drop in?no registration needed.
- Get a head start: watch Editing for Green Screen Video in Premiere Pro, a great set of tutorials from Lynda.com (free access with your Library card number).

Whatever you choose, your Mom will love watching the message you've created just for her in Level Up. Happy Mother's Day!
