We are pleased to share that the Library is the recipient of two grants to support access to digital resources in Monroe County. The City of Bloomington Information & Technology Services Department has awarded the Library a Digital Equity Grant of $10,500, and the Wahl Family Charitable Trust has gifted the Library $5,300.

"Providing equitable access to information is one of the Library's most important goals and is reflective of our core mission to provide opportunities to read, learn, connect and create," said Grier Carson, Associate Director. "One of the greatest challenges posed by the current public health crisis is our inability to reach each and every Library patron when physical access to the Library carries with it a number of health considerations. These grants will help us improve upon that." Read more about Two Grants Fund Hotspots, iPads, and Diverse Books
