Bloomington, Indiana Divorce Support Group

Website

<https://www.facebook.com/profile.php?id=100087256417324>

Address

Bloomington, IN

Description

What we are:

An informal group for divorcing, separating, or divorced individuals residing in the Bloomington, Indiana area who are looking for support while navigating their new circumstances.

While our individual stories differ they all involve the ending of serious relationships initially entered into with the belief that they would last a lifetime. We gather to support one another at weekly meetings where we share our feelings, concerns, and experiences with other members who are facing similar issues of adjustment.

Participants are expected to be willing and able to meet in person on a fairly regular basis.

LGBTQIA - friendly.

What we are not:

- This is not a therapy group.
- This is not a dating group.
- This is not a place for seeking hook ups.
- This is not a group for those simply looking to meet new people to hang out with and activities to fill their time.

The group currently meets weekly from 6 - 8 p.m. on Monday evenings. For information regarding meetings please email:

Centerstone Recovery Engagement Center

Website

<https://centerstone.org/locations/indiana/facilities/centers/stone-recovery-engagement-center/>

Address

221 North Rogers Street
Bloomington, IN 47401

Description

Recovery Engagement Center (REC) is a low barrier community center for someone who is seeking recovery. It is intended to be a walk-in center, in the community, that is warm, welcoming and non-threatening. An individual who needs to find resources, help, or just a cup of coffee can drop in and feel welcome. The goal of a REC is to be a hub for recovery and to serve as a clearing house for recovery resources for the community. This is a place where faith-based providers can have events, 12-step meetings can occur, treatment referrals can be made, and so forth.

The Recovery Engagement Center is a community center that provides recovery classes, recovery coaching, 12-step meetings, volunteer opportunities, computers with internet, a Friday community lunch, and special recovery events. We strive to help those seeking recovery to regain a sense of hope and possibility from their addiction.

Ages 18 and older.

ManKind Project Bloomington Community

Website

<https://mkpusa.org/>

Address

Bloomington, IN

Description

A diverse, vital and potent community of men committed to empowering men to live from a place of integrity, authenticity and service.

We are a committed group of men helping men in Bloomington through the greater work of The ManKind Project USA. We hold a weekly IGroup meeting each Thursday evening, open to any man, as a safe place to share your challenges, struggles, and victories. "All of you" is welcome there. Please contact us to learn more and to join us as our guest.

We support our community and strengthen our commitment to co-creating a better world through service work. Ongoing service projects and volunteer opportunities abound.

We provide training to gift each man the tools to step into healthy, mature masculinity and increased self-awareness. Our work teaches each man the value of integrity, accountability, authenticity, emotional intelligence, and compassion.

The ManKind Project USA is a nonprofit [501 (c)(3)] charitable organization that conducts challenging and highly rewarding trainings for men at every stage of life, supports a network of peer-facilitated men's groups, and empowers men to missions of service in the world. We help men through any transition, men at all levels of success, men facing almost any challenge. Our flagship training, described by many as the most powerful men's training available, is the New Warrior Training Adventure. The ManKind Project (MKP) is not affiliated with any religious practice or political party. We strive to be increasingly inclusive and culturally aware.
