Palo Santo by Years & Years.	Jul 20, 2018
	A band intuitively connected to great, homespun British pop, this release announces Years & Years' ascension to the world stage, through an escapist futuristic fantasia created by Olly Alexander. A once-in-a-generation front man who understands more than most his responsibility as a pop star, his personal leap forward in scope and ambition is reflected in the album's colorful mix of collaborators, which range from Greg Kurstin, Julia Michaels and Justin Tranter to Steve Mac and Sarah Hudson.
Over the Years... by Nash, Graham.	Jul 20, 2018
	Includes fifteen demo recordings, twelve of which have never been released. Standouts include the 1968 London demo of Marrakesh Express; rejected by the Hollies and setting the stage for Nash's relocation to Los Angeles and the next chapter of his life.
Ours by Thumbscrew (Musical group), performer.	Jul 20, 2018
	Previously unissued live set from Detroit in 1968.
One Night at Morey's- 1968 by Coffey, Dennis.	Jul 20, 2018
	Previously unissued live set from Detroit in 1968.
Nose Picker by Negative Scanner.	Jul 20, 2018
	Once again recorded by the band themselves in their Chicago practice space, the album opens with a question; 'Is there anybody there?' which acts as both a legitimate query as well as a rallying cry. The past two years have seen the band step out of the Midwest DIY spaces and basement shows and tour the USA and Europe.

A Matter of Time by Protoje.	Jul 20, 2018
The follow up to Protoje's 2014 worldwide hit record Ancient Future, which spawned the megahit 'Who Knows'. This time out, Protoje continues his collaboration with producer Winta James on ten modern roots dancehall bangers, including two new collaborations with Chronixx, as well as recently released hit singles 'Blood Money', 'Truth & Rights', and 'Bout Noon'. This release marks Protoje's first partnership with indie tastemaker label Easy Star Records.
Made to be Broken by Soul Asylum.	Jul 20, 2018

Soul Asylum stood out immediately because of their work ethic and smart, punky hard rock sound. They made four records for hometown label Twin/Tone Records before moving on to the majors; first A&M, then Columbia, where they scored two platinum albums and won a Best Rock Song Grammy for 'Runaway Train.'
