The vocabulary builder workbook - simple lessons and activities to teach yourself over 1,4000 must-know words by Lele, Chris, author.	Jul 20, 2018
	"Ideal for those taking the SAT, ACT, or GRE--or for those who simply want to improve their writing and speaking skills--The Vocabulary Builder Workbook makes the task of expanding your vocabulary an opportunity for real learning and growth."--
The wonder of our solar system by Greathouse, Lisa E.	Jul 20, 2018
	People once believed that Earth was the center of the solar system. Scientists finally learned that Earth is one of at least eight planets in our solar system and that they all travel around the sun. Astronomers now know that our solar system is almost 5 billion years old and is part of at least 100 billion galaxies in the universe. Earth is the only planet known to have life and water. Scientists continue to discover new planet-like objects, called dwarf planets, all the time!

The world of plants by Macceca, Michael L.		Jul 20, 2018

What things do all animals have in common? How do scientists classify animals? How are humans classified and what makes them different? Enter the animal kingdom with zoologists who study animals! You ll explore how scientists use a system called taxonomy to classify and organize different kinds of living things as you explore the wonderful world of animals.

There are 90 different elements, like the oxygen that we breathe, that can be found in nature. When two or more elements combine, they are held together by a chemical bond and form a compound. In 1869, chemist Dmitri Mendel ev organized the elements into a chart that is known as the Periodic Table of Elements.

The world of rocks &amp; minerals by Rice, William B.		There are many different kinds of rocks. But rocks have many things in common, too. All rocks are solid, are made naturally, and are made up of groups of smaller particles and minerals that are stuck together. There are three types of rocks: igneous, sedimentary, and metamorphic. Rocks have been used to make buildings, walls, and roads. In the form of fossils, rocks have taught us many things about the kinds of plants and animals that have lived on Earth.	Jul 20, 2018
