

Library Van

What services are provided with the Library Van?

The Library Van provides library materials to residents of assisted living and senior living facilities. This service helps meet the needs of patrons who cannot access our library buildings or the Bookmobile. The Library offers Van Service to facilities both as lobby stops and deposit collections.

What is the difference between lobby stops and deposit collections?

Lobby stops are browsing collections brought biweekly to serve residents with limited mobility. Using rolling carts, Library staff set up a temporary mini-library in the lobby or activity room of facilities and check out materials directly to patrons.

Deposit collections can be separate from lobby stops or an additional service. Library staff deliver bags of books and other materials to sites biweekly or monthly. These facilities then establish their own method of distributing and using materials.

Are Library Van stops open to the general public?

Generally, no. Unlike Bookmobile stops, which are open to everyone, Library Van patrons typically must be residents, staff, or approved guests of the facilities we serve, in accordance with the policies of each specific site.
