

The New York Times

Founded in 1851, The New York Times has won 127 Pulitzer Prizes, more than any other newspaper. Complimentary access includes NYTimes.com and all NYT mobile apps, as well as their international editions. Discover and share content on social networks, save articles, subscribe to subject area email newsletters, and receive news alerts.

Getting Started

To get started, visit NYTimes Pass and follow the on-screen instructions.

- If you're outside of the Library, login with your username (or library card number) and password when prompted. If you're inside the Library, this step will be bypassed. Note: Off-site access is limited to 60 logins per day.
- Next, create an account using your email address and a password of your choice. Moving forward, you can continue to use this to login, or you can create a new username and password if you forget yours.
- Your login will give you access to The New York Times from anywhere on any device for 24 hours. Once it expires, you can come back to the Library's link for the NYTimes Pass page to login again.
